PROJECTS

FootTracks (Flask, React)

Live | GitHub Repo

- Implemented SQLAlchemy ORM in Python Flask to handle database operations for all features, such as likes, follows, and profiles, enhancing the user experience through optimized data handling.
- Integrated AWS S3 to facilitate seamless image uploads, enriching user profiles and fostering engagement.
- Integrated Leaflet.js and Mapbox APIs to create dynamic, interactive maps, allowing users to visualize their workout routes, and track their progress.
- Leveraged Tailwind CSS to design and develop a responsive user interface.

Plate-pal (Flask, React)

Live | GitHub Repo

- Integrated Google Maps API to display restaurant markers on an interactive map, providing a visually appealing representation of locations, enhancing user experience, and simplifying navigation.
- Utilized ReactHooks for dynamic error management in various forms, enabling real-time validation and user feedback, improving user experience and promoting accurate data submission.
- Collaborated within an Agile Scrum team of 3 engineers, using Git feature branches for version control and conducting daily standup meetings to review project progress, align goals, and ensure effective communication.

Bnb-Ria (Express, React)

Live | GitHub Repo

- Built Node.js backend using Express/Sequelize to streamline database queries for efficient data management
 - Utilized Redux to enhance performance and user experience by rendering React components dynamically
